Digital Tools for Interpreters

with Maha El-Metwally

Regular CPD is important for our network of members to keep up our skills in evolving business and working environments. Many digital tools offer numerous advantages for interpreters with busy schedules and lots of data to manage, but we need to learn how to use them effectively before reaping the benefits in productivity gains.

Digital tools & efficiency on the move

This one-day training session will cover the following core components:

- Paperless Preparation. How Computer Aided Interpreting (CAI) tools, apps for document annotation, glossary management and online preparation resources can lighten the load for busy interpreters.
- Apps and gadgets that facilitate an interpreter's life on the go.
- Note digitisation. A review of apps and tools for digitising hand-written notes to easily search them and organise them.

In addition, participants will get an opportunity to try out the tools for themselves.

Trainer Bio

Ms. Maha El-Metwally is a conference interpreter for the languages: Arabic (A), English (B), French and Dutch (C).
